Divorce Financial Planners Group Provides Useful Tools To Ease The Divorce Process

Planning is essential for success in all parts of life, including separation and divorce.

(VANCOUVER, B.C. March 13, 2012) – The Divorce Financial Planners (DFP) group of Vancouver, B.C. has released two important checklists to aid consumers who are going through a separation or divorce or who have recently gone through the process.

Besides the emotional impact such a process can entail, there are innumerable details that must be attended to, information to be obtained and issues that need to be considered. This process is made easier by the posting of the following two lists on the group's website (www.divorcefinancialplanners.ca):

- Preparing for Divorce Checklist – A detailed listing of important documents that need to be collected, professional help that may be needed and helpful hints in situations where children might be involved.
- Post-Divorce Checklist – A checklist to help consumers instruct their legal and financial experts.

Now consumers can be prepared to work with their professionals, knowing the information that will be needed and the questions they will be asking. The information is a blessing (boon? or other word?) for those couples or individuals who like to be prepared for what's ahead.

Visit www.divorcefinancialplanners.ca/resources.html to review the two checklists.

The Divorce Financial Planners group is the public's best source for qualified financial expertise in the financial aspects of divorce. The goal of the group is to provide financial education and advice which enables couples to make informed, objective decisions in the context of the legal process.
